The Johnny Bench Award was created in 2000 to honor college baseball's top division one catcher. The award is administered by the Greater Wichita Area Sports Commission and presented after the conclusion of the College World Series. Former Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench, who by some is considered to be the best defensive catcher in baseball history, agreed to be the namesake for the annual award.

Coach Gehrer and his Just Block It staff host the annual catchers clinic held in conjunction with the award. The three finalist, their coaches and the JBI staff work with over 100 campers each year.

Just Block It was founded in 1985 and has helped thousands of catchers.
